FALL GRATITUDE BANQUET A GREAT SUCCESS !!!!

On behalf of the Northeast Florida Intergroup fellowship I thank everyone involved in planning, coordinating, hosting and participating in the 2022 Fall Gratitude Banquet. I especially thank the members of Alco, Alumni and Awakenings houses for their great support. Our two cochairs, Holly C and Linda G, were fantastic and our speaker David H. was inspirational. Thanks again to everyone who came. It was great fun!
I hope to see you all at the 2023 Spring Picnic!

Howdy ya'll! 'beth here. I want to thank all of you for the privilege of representing you at the National Archives Workshop! Let me just say, Little Rock has the best doughnuts ever!

I learned so much in a short period of time. I am also enthused about learning more about early AA in Jacksonville and making it more accessible and interactive for YOU! I came home with a set of the tapes and several of the PowerPoint presentations to show with the tapes. Gosh I'm Old! Tapes...!

What is it we collect and how to preserve it, and making it relevant. We have real treasures! Just last night I was talking with a lady before a meeting. She was reminiscing about going to Founder's Day in Akron and running into a guy she knew from Florida who attended meetings at Dr. Bob's house! He pointed out the coffee pot they REALLY used. Does your Group have a treasure like Alice? Does anyone remember Junius? I would like to talk with them! Have you seen the NAS Jacksonville Challenge Coin? Do you know the history of it? I am trying to find out more on the background, we may have a real claim to starting an AA tradition!

I look forward to sharing more than this space allows! I will announce upcoming presentations in the future!

I also experienced something that I haven't in a LOOOOOOONG time – true fellowship. We sat around, like old cronies do, and compared how this work in our local areas, how AA has changed and what will happen in the future.

Ensuring AAs Future by Preserving its Past.

Short History of the Jacksonville Annual Dinner

The Jacksonville A.A. community is soon to celebrate the 62nd Anniversary of Alcoholics Anonymous in Jacksonville and the state of Florida. The celebration will be in the form of the 62nd Annual Dinner to be held at the Radisson Riverwalk Hotel & Conference Center April 5, 2003. The history of the Annual Dinner has not been historically documented but what is known about the early days of the dinner has been placed on record. The following brief history will hopefully give a little insight into the historical importance of our Annual Dinner.

The first recorded dinner to be held by the AA community in Jacksonville was in the spring of 1942. The dinner was held at the old Seminole Hotel and was attended by approximately twenty to twenty-five people. The speaker at this dinner was Bill W. Co-Founder of AA. The price of the dinner was $1.25, which many thought to be kind of high for the times.

The first official Annual Dinner was held on a Monday evening May 22, 1944 at the Windsor Hotel. The meal consisted of broiled milk fed chicken, candied sweet potatoes and green giant peas with appetizer, desert and coffee. The featured speaker at the First Annual Dinner again was Bill W. The Second Annual Dinner was March 24, 1945 at the Mayflower Hotel. The featured Speaker was Marty M., reportedly the first woman sober in AA. The Third Annual Dinner was again at the Mayflower Hotel on April 4, 1946. The speaker was again a nationally known member of AA, name unknown.

The 1947 Annual Dinner was Officially listed as the Sixth Annual Dinner. The change in the numbering system was made to bring the Annual Dinner in line with the 1941 founding of AA in Jacksonville and the state.

The Tenth Anniversary Dinner was a major affair held at the Hotel George Washington Saturday evening, February 24, 1951. The Featured Speaker was again Bill W. the topic of his speech was A.A. History Leading to Conference Plan. The weekend of the 24-25 was to be the first North Florida Conference. This Conference was for the purpose of electing the first North Florida Area delegate

Learning to give love is like learning to use a new skill. At first we feel awkward, perhaps frightened. It is necessary to go slowly, to work in small familiar, even trivial ways, and not to be discouraged if the response is slow in coming. We cannot change the pattern of years with a single gesture, an occasional word. But Love freely given, without strings attached, without even a demand for thanks or gratitude will sooner or later win Love in return.

"IMPATIENCE is waiting for something in a hurry."

"FACE THE SUN; shadows fall behind."

An Open Mind Unlocks the Door

In the past years of association with AA I have heard much about the virtues we must acquire and the defects we must eliminate. However, little is said about the "key" which unlocks the door . . . open mindedness. Occasionally it is mentioned in passing with relation to spiritual things and God, but do we not need to apply all that we learn to our every day living? The 12th Step says "practice these principles in all our affairs." It has been my sad experience to find very little real open mindedness among my fellow travelers. Many of my associates will be indignant and perhaps even have some resentments but I see what I see, and hear what I hear, and have been guilty of the same fault.

Open minded is defined as "ready to hear," "open to suggestion." I have heard an AA say: "we must keep an open mind," and no longer than 30 minutes later I have heard that same AA insisting his opinion was right and being very definite about it. Also, we sometimes insist our associates are not doing things as we believe they must be done. This is lack of open mindedness.

I don't believe we can cheat. We are using a spiritual Truth when we attempt to utilize the 12 Steps to straighten out our life, and I believe we will pay a heavy price if we do not heed the laws laid down by Truth. Therefore, let us place this virtue where it belongs among the important things we need to practice in our daily contacts. Let us always remember that in every man there is good and that we may learn something good from the worst. Let us always remember that each person is an individual and for him, his opinions may be right. Each one of us must find God as we understand him, each one of us must straighten out his life as we see it in accordance with God's plan, not mine or yours.

I have found it absolutely impossible to disagree with everything a speaker says. I have always found at least one thought which I could add to my storehouse of knowledge as I listened to another ex-drunk, even if it is only the knowledge of what not to do.

Let us keep an open mind when one of our brothers has trouble, for we would have to know everything he thinks, all the external forces which enter his life to judge him. Even then it would be a risk. Let us learn to listen with an open mind to every one we come in contact with and thus take away a new thought to meditate upon and perhaps add to our own storehouse. Somewhere along the line in life we will need to draw heavily upon this storehouse, when the chips are down, if we would remain sober.

No person completes a lifetime without one day having to prove beyond all shadow of doubt what he professes. The Divine Plan so arranges it. If you come into AA and refuse to keep an open mind you will miss an education in philosophy. Perhaps you do not refuse but are just unaware . . . you must become aware if you would stay sober.

Let us keep an open mind when we talk with the neophyte, so that we will be able to do the greatest good. Let us remember that we are all individuals, we did not all drink for the same reason we do not all have the same character defects or problems, so we must set aside, at times, our own fixed opinions and listen if we are to help. We can all state what we would do if we were in another's place, but would we? I have found that many times in the past year I was unable to do the very things I preached to others. There are times when we must, of course, advise and guide; as adults we should be able to know when to listen and when to talk.

To me, contact with other members is a sounding board for new ideas, an exchange of opinions and I must listen, as well as talk, if I am to continue to learn and progress. If I do not, I shall find myself thinking in circles, having fixed opinions and, Brother, then it won't be long unless I wake up and get busy. I must free my mind, be receptive to opinions and ideas from other AAs as well as from God. This, I think, is closely linked with self-centeredness, perhaps the end result of lack of open mindedness. It is no doubt the first step down the ladder we have so laboriously climbed. Add to your inventory at night, "Have I been open minded today" and if you haven't look back over the day and see just how much you might have learned . . . if you have I'll bet you find you have several new thoughts or ideas to add to your storehouse.

In Cleveland, during the Convention, I heard much about the four absolutes. Honesty, sincerity, love and humility. I fail to see how we can ever acquire any one of them without first opening our minds and being receptive. This is what you did when you admitted your powerlessness and asked for help. You opened your mind so that "A Power greater than yourself" could come in; this is what you do in the 11th Step when you meditate.

Let us apply this "open mindedness to our every day life as well as to God. If we do we will find ourselves far richer in thought as the years go by.

As I was sitting at a meeting the other evening and a lady was speaking she mentioned the three slogans: Live and Let Live, Easy Does It, and First Things First; and that she was having trouble with Easy Does It. As she mentioned these slogans I looked up at the wall where they were displayed. All I could see because of the lady's head in front of me was the last word in each slogan . . . "Live . . . It . . . First."

Live and Let Live
Easy Does It
First Things First

The thought came to me then that the secret of getting or living these three slogans is to live the Twelve Steps first
